To Consider Jobless Pay Extension

Ohio Legislature to Convene Monday In Special Session

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, with the solid backing of Democrats in both houses, has called a special lame-duck session of the Ohio legislature to consider an emergency extension of the state's unemployment compensation benefit period.

The special session will open at 11 a.m. Monday, and will consider only the unemployment benefits problem DiSalle said he issued the call Tuesday on the grounds that "I believe this is something that is necessary and would be helpful" in dealing with Ohio's mounting unemployment problem.

DiSalle said Ohio's unemployment situation is markedly worse than in other states, especially in the last two weeks. The Democratic governor said unemployment in Ohio now stands at 5.7 percent of the work force covered by unemployment insurance—and he expects it to go higher in late winter before any downward trend is noted. The national average, DiSalle said, 4.4 percent.

The emergency clause DiSalle proposes would make an extra 13 weeks of benefits available immediately to still-unemployed Ohioans who have exhausted their regular 26 weeks of benefits since last Jan. 1. His proposed extender would end automatically next March 21.

A two-thirds vote—93 in the House and 22 in the Senate—is needed to pass such an extender. Although the Democratic members of both houses have promised their support of the measure, it cannot pass without Republican votes as well. DiSalle issued the special-session call even though he lacked Republican assurances of backing the emergency clause—which would make the extender effective immediately—or even that they will go for the bill itself.

Apparently DiSalle's decision to call the special session was reached during a noon-hour conference with legislative leaders, including Sen. Frank W. King, D-Lucas, and Rep. James A. Lantz, D-Fairfield, Senate majority leader and House speaker, respectively, of the present legislature, and Senate Minority Leader C. Stanley Mecham, R-Athens, and Rep. Roger Cloud, R-Logan.

DiSalle and Cloud told DiSalle they could not forecast how the Republican members of either house will vote on the extender bill. As a result, they said, they were in no position to assure the governor of favorable or unfavorable BOP reaction.

Church Budget Case Reaches Top Court

A new action involving ownership of a Salem printing firm reached the Ohio Supreme Court today.

Mrs. Lois Partridge asked the high court to reverse lower court orders for payment of $21,815 for her minority interest in the Budget Press and the Church Envelope Co., doing a million-dollar annual business.

After the death of James A. Pidgeon Sr., courts determined the interest in the firms of the other partners, James A. Pidgeon Jr., Joseph A. Pidgeon and their sister, Mrs. Lois Pidgeon Par-

Mrs. Partridge claimed that lower courts erred in ordering payment of a fixed sum when an action to determine her rights did not contain a prayer for a money judgment.

Talks Continue In Moscow

Reds Still Split Over Tactics

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union, in a tough rejoinder to its critics within the Communist camp, today declared peaceful coexistence still a controlling principle in its policies.

The declaration in Pravda indicated very hard bargaining on Communist world tactics is still going on in the Red summit meeting here that has been in progress for two weeks, though some kind of paper compromise may be reached eventually.

Only two days ago the official People's Daily of Peiping, in an evident attack on Soviet Premier Khrushchev's theories of peaceful coexistence and the possibility that World War III may not be inevitable, declared that an illusion to think communism can get along with imperialism.

Role of Standpat Revolutionism

Peiping, in the role of standpat revolutionism, called for all-out Communist backing for revolutionary movements in underdeveloped countries. It urged, however, in a seeming mood for compromise, that Communists "turn to

Weather to be Fair, Mild

Special Observances To Mark Thanksgiving

By The Associated Press

Millions of Americans will celebrate Thanksgiving Day with church rites, special holiday observances, traditional turkey dinners, and college and professional football games.

For most of the country the weather will be fair and mild, with many sections basking in Indian summer temperatures.

Many city dwellers plan to go elsewhere for the holiday and air-line, bus and train travel is expected to be extremely heavy—particularly to Florida and Caribbean vacation spots.

President and Mrs. Eisenhower will observe the last Thanksgiving of his administration with a quiet turkey dinner at the White House. The President's son, John, and his family, who usually join in the family party, will have their own turkey dinner at Gettysburg, Pa.

President-elect John F. Kennedy also will be in Washington to have Thanksgiving dinner with his wife and daughter Caroline. Caroline will be 3 Sunday but the celebration of her birthday is being moved up so her father can take part. Kennedy plans to fly back to his Palm Beach, Fla., vacation-work headquarters Thursday night.

For the 2,502,145 men and women in Uncle Sam's armed forces there will be plenty of turkey—nearly a pound per person—and the usual trimmings. The Army-Air Force menu, for example, includes shrimp cocktail, roast turkey with giblet gravy, bread dressing and cranberry sauce, mashed potatoes, orange glazed sweet potatoes, buttered peas, relishes, pumpkin and mince pie and fruit cake, fruits, dates, candy and nuts.

The townspeople of Plymouth, Mass., the birthplace of Thanksgiving, will celebrate the holiday with appropriate ceremonies. The high point is re-enactment of the procession of Pilgrims from a spot near the graves of those who died in the first rugged winter of the new world. The men are:

Robert W. Bryan, 450 Franklin St.; Vincent Cittino, 405 N. Roosevelt Ave.; and Lee Cranmer, 1821 Oak St.

Only one of the trio will be appointed to the department at the present time. Dr. McConnor said this morning an appointment should be made within the next week.

Testing was conducted recently to fill a vacancy created by the resignation a few months ago of Albert Koontz.

Four men qualified through the tests with the top three being certified by the Civil Service Commission. At least three men must be certified before an appointment can be made.

Appointment of a zoning inspector has been held up because of lack of applicants for the position. Trustees said more applications would be welcomed.

Perry Township voters approved establishment of zoning laws at the Nov. 8 election.

Adequate Living for Retired Couple Costs $220-$280

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government estimated today it takes $220 to $280 monthly to support a retired couple aged 65 or more on a modest but adequate urban living level.

Budget costs for such couples in 20 cities surveyed by the Labor Department's statistics bureau ranged from $2,641 in Houston to $3,366 in Chicago for the specific living standard on which the study was based.

The bureau described it as "not a luxurious level, but one adequate to provide more than the basic essentials of consumption."

The budget cost estimates compare with average Social Security payments of about $125 a month to couples over 65.

Officials emphasized that Social Security never was intended to supply more than minimum living cost protection. A more than subsistence living level generally presumes some outside income such as private pension or yield from investments.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

Along with the U.S. government, the unions have a problem with their money reserves. But that's where labor parts company with F. R. K. Knox. The labor cash pools are flowing in, not out. And the union leaders want to turn the gold accounts into action — especially now that the recession is inching in on us.

There are hundreds of millions in union funds, strike funds, contingency emergency funds and many billions in pension pools. They're in steady, low income government bonds, mostly.

Just before the national election campaign, George Meany, AFL-CIO president, figuratively went into the counting house, totaled the reserves and thought the time had come to put labor's funds into job-making projects.

Meany got a committee going and last Aug. 15, labor's high command gave him the authority to set up an investment department inside the national labor head quarters across the square from that White House which is running a little short these days.

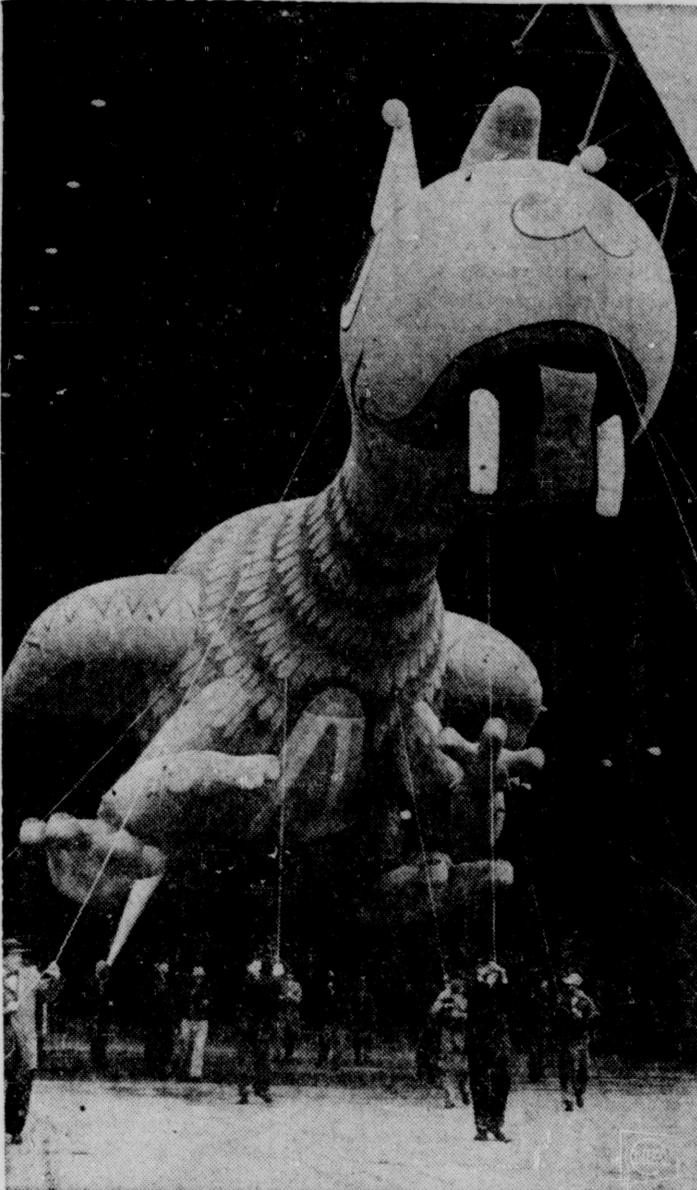

AS THE LABOR committee saw it — and as they have been discussing it this past week in Washington there may be as much as two billion dollars in the unions' general funds.

There are also more than 40 billion — yes, billion — in swiftly growing pension and welfare balances.

No one really knows how much of this is under joint labor-management trusteeship. But it's high, high in the billions. And the figure is accruing at the rate of over five billion a year.

As George Meany told it to some of his colleagues, his own Bronx plumbers union has some million dollars, mostly in unromantic low yielding government bonds. Hundreds of unions have as much or more. And Meany said why not throw the money into higher interest construction and mortgage loans and help stir the lands' prosperity.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. H. T. HYMAN

The Aim of Psychotherapy

Unlike symptomatic treatment, psychotherapy aims to discover a then remedy the causes for disorders in our conduct, emotional upsets, personality defects and neuroses.

But psychotherapy, to be effective, is both time-consuming and costly.

In the case of the most searching form of intensive psychotherapy, the patient may be required to spend an hour a session with Dr. H. T. Hyman, the analyst every weekday for months and even years.

On this account, the conscientious analyst can care for no more than a handful of patients each year. And, even if his hourly fee to the individual patients is relatively modest, considering the length and hardships of his training program, the total cost of a complete analysis is prohibitive to all time, therefore, the case load for the nation might approximate a million children, women and men! To care for this vast army of patients, we have fewer than 6,000 accredited specialists in neurology and psychiatry. If it were possible to make an even division of the calculated case load, each specialist would have the impossible assignment of caring for almost 200 patients.

But the distribution of our specialists is anything but equitable. With few exceptions, they congregate in the largest of our metropolitan communities. For example, Greater Los Angeles (including Beverly Hills and Hollywood) has a larger population of accredited neurologists and psychiatrists than the combined total of those who practice in Alaska, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, North and South Dakota and Wyoming.

CAN IT BE, as the "research" suggests, that our fellow-countrymen in these states are of a "lower class"? Or that they lack a desire for psychotherapy?

Or, conversely, is it that big city victims of this "Age of Anxiety" (such as those who make up the motion picture colony, for example) are of a higher cultural and educational level than the rest of us and hence more desirous of getting rid of their anxieties, tensions, depressions and the like?

Why Not a Lake Close to Salem?

The announcement yesterday that work is expected to start within the next two years on Highlandtown Lake on Rt. 39 south of Salem brings to mind the fact that Salem might have a good lake site at its back door.

We refer to the valley northeast of the city bordering Route 62 and extending from a point beyond Route 165. Little Beaver Creek flows down this valley and in times of Spring floods the lowland area is usually inundated.

If feasible from an engineering point of view, the construction of an adequate dam to impound the waters there could create a lake that would offer recreational enjoyment to Spring rains did this. A dam might create a good recreational lake.

Miner Running Out of Salt

President Eisenhower's experts have told him the United States can save a billion dollars a year in overseas spending.

This is imperative, they have told him—and everybody else—because the United States is sending gold abroad at a rate that will use up its supply if the drain can't be stopped.

Not only is the government being too open-handed, but the U.S. economy has been buying more abroad than it has been offsetting with sales to foreign countries.

This is not easy for ordinary people who have no dealings with international trade to understand. Especially hard to understand is manipulation of the world's gold supply—the gold standard that ultimately determines the actual value of the pieces of paper which change hands in monetary transactions.

There is a threadbare but useful wisecrack about the gold standard—that only three men on earth understand it and they can't agree. But it's only the theory of the gold standard that causes the confusion. The practice is obvious.

The drain on U.S. gold reserves to pay the difference between U.S. outgo abroad and U.S. income from foreign sources isn't a theory. It's a condition.

EVERY TIME the family of an American citizen stationed overseas pays for the services of a German housemaid, there is a net drain on the U.S. gold reserve. Therefore, the families of thousands of Americans stationed abroad are going to be brought home.

Every time the purchasing agent of a PX overseas buys foreign goods for sale to PX customers at cost, the United States loses. That will be discouraged. So will foreign purchases by other American agencies.

Agricultural surpluses will not be dumped so promiscuously. All along the line there will be a gradual drying up of the drainage of U.S. wealth, because this amounts to a subtraction from U.S. gold reserves.

But the catch to present consternation is that it only reflects belatedly in Washington a consternation that has gnawed at nonexpert taxpayers ever since President Roosevelt told the British they could borrow the "garden hose" to put out the fire when Hitler lit the match that started World War II. Even before that, there was nonexpert con-

Parties will be wary of TV debates in future. You can put White House up for grabs through linking political campaign with video fireside-screen. Many experts think GOP's biggest error, was in going for TV debates, which certainly gave Sen. Kennedy, a highly photogenic personality, a chance to lift self from a not too well-known candidate to a ranking with Arthur Godfrey, Bob Hope, Jack Paar and Ozzie and Harriet.

Nixon was much better known before debates but TV was right up Jack's alley, which was ally of photogenic youth, vigor, charm and punch.

There was always the feeling that Kennedy could play the xylophone, go into a ballet number of play "Ben Hur" in a TV version.

It was close and Nixon made a great showing but he was no video sensation, even those in his corner.

Kennedy is able, vigorous and popular winner but TV appeal is based on such curious qualities that it can be a dangerous factor in choosing presidents of U.S.A.

There could come a day when Desi Arnaz could be national chairman of one party and Walt Disney the other. With Donald Duck, Mickey Mouse and Flicka on splinter party tickets.

Probably Nixon benefitted from TV to some extent but the youthful voters never got an image of him as an airwave hero. He got the votes of those who liked the grim western marshals, dependable stagecoach guardians Few countries took to baseball the way Cuba did. The seventh inning stretch was a peace influence. The overtime drill has replaced the overtime ball contest and the fans know that the announcer's shrill, "It's all tied up with three on" may be broken into by a loud voice denouncing the game as a game born in capitalistic America and ordering the pitcher taken out to help stop an imaginary attack by anti-Castro forces.

President Faces Great Challenge

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON

President, National Education Association

With his inauguration next January the new President of the United States faces the greatest challenge that has come to any man in all history.

This is the challenge of international Communism which moves relentlessly forward on its mission to conquer the world.

To accept the challenge, our new President must rise to the stature of world leadership, and must mobilize all free men into a mammoth offensive for victory. It is the duty of every American citizen who agrees with this proposition to write to the President-elect and urge such action.

UP TO THIS DATE, in the 27 years that Soviet Communism has openly made known its objectives on the world scene, the United States has been outsmarted at nearly every turn. Yet Khrushchev, and Stalin before him, and the other bosses in the Soviet hierarchy today are not supermen. We have the intellect and the moral foundations and the material resources in America to lead a crushing victorious offensive against world Communism. But we are on the defensive, in retreat. The true facts of our peril have not been recognized by our leaders, and they have been largely withheld from our people due to subversive influences, political expediency, and urging such action.

THE SUBHEADING on the article by Dr. Malik says: "A challenge to the West: To win the war against Communism, the democracies must abandon 'containment,' reject the idea of 'peaceful co-existence,' adopt an active policy of liberation. Either the American people will now awaken and begin to bring their fear and courage to bear on our leaders, or, as General Romulo says, 'a dark age of Communist totalitarianism is certain to engulf the human race.'

IN OUR WORK in the National Education Program we have sought for more than 20 years to awaken the American people. Our materials have reached millions and have shaken many into action. Just six months ago, we completed work on a new filmstrip, "Communism on the Map." It is shocking in its revelations. Its acceptance throughout the nation has been sensational—and most encouraging.

THE ENTIRE ARTICLE is devoted to a summation of the grave peril to freedom and an appeal to the United States to take aggressive leadership in an "active policy of liberation."

General Romulo's article in the November Reader's Digest has the shattering impact of a clear-throated bugle calling citizens of America to action. Its title: "America, Wake Up!" The Digest editors, in an introductory note say:

"A wise and loyal friend of the United States warns us: The cold war is real war...it is far later than we know...The Communists can win without changing their tactics...We cannot win without changing ours...We must assume the offensive. We dare not stand still...To do so is to continue to lose ground."

THIS IS A STERN AND URGENT APPEAL. It is one that no American can afford to ignore."

YES, WE HAVE COME to the crossroads for freedom. Either the American people will now awaken and begin to bring their fear and courage to bear on our leaders, or, as General Romulo says, "a dark age of Communist totalitarianism is certain to engulf the human race."

IN OUR WORK in the National Education Program we have sought for more than 20 years to awaken the American people. Our materials have reached millions and have shaken many into action. Just six months ago, we completed work on a new filmstrip, "Communism on the Map." It is shocking in its revelations. Its acceptance throughout the nation has been sensational—and most encouraging.

MORE THAN A MILLION people already have viewed "Communism on the Map." It has been adopted as a public service project by 16 daily newspapers; by fraternal and civic groups, civilian sections of the armed services, by school and P.T.A. groups and the American Legion.

IT IS BEING USED in nearly 200 industries.

IT CHARTS WITH documentation the geographic advances and present position of world Communism. It is for rent and for sale. Write the National Education Program, Seaway, Arkansas for further information.

Douglas' Position

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Advocates Admission of Red China Into U.N.

When a justice of the Supreme Court of the United States steps down from the bench to discuss a political question, domestic or foreign, there naturally is a raising of eyebrows.

The American people have come to expect the justices of the Supreme Court to stick to their judicial business. Hence David Lawrence, the speech just delivered by Justice William O. Douglas, openly advocating the admission of Red China into the United Nations, is a surprising departure from custom.

Justice Douglas is a sincere individual who has pronounced views on a lot of questions and, indeed, might have become president in 1945. In a letter to the 1944 Democratic National Convention leaders, the then President Franklin D. Roosevelt recommended Justice Douglas's name for the vice presidency, along with the name of Harry Truman.

The speech delivered by Mr. Douglas is not unlike that which so many of the so-called liberals have been making in recent months.

Although they are indignant at the slightest suggestion that they are soft on communism, they seem to be indifferent to the fortunes of the United States in the cold war.

Despite the fact that the United States is being undermined by Red China and by the Soviets on every continent of the world and that the budget of the United States is strained to the utmost by armament expenditures, the cry of the appeasers is that, by giving the Communists what they want, the cause of peace will be advanced.

This was the doctrine of the Western governments in the 1930s as, unhappily, they gave Hitler a concession after concession—which he promptly misconstrued as a sign of weakness.

SIGNIFICANT among the comment on the latest attempt to give Red China a boost in the diplomatic world is an editorial in the Washington, D.C., Star, under the heading "Justice Douglas Dissents." It says:

"Addressing a group in New York City, Justice Douglas said that Peiping's conquest of Tibet 'exceeded in ruthlessness and cruelty the actions of Russia in Hungary.'

He conceded that Red China is an 'outlaw' in any accurate use of the word but, he asked, 'How can an outlaw be kept outside the United Nations and yet be disciplined by it?'

The implication is, of course, that if Red China were in the United Nations it could be disciplined as well as reformed.

The Art of Carving

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Cooking Thanksgiving turkey is easy.

Carving it—as everyone knows—is the real art.

When the family has a turkey dinner in a restaurant, everything goes according to Hoyle. Everyone takes the portion dished out to him without complaint, and no one questions the chef's impartiality, judgment or skill.

But when the family has a turkey dinner at home, chaos and rebellion—murmured or shouted—reign from the moment the bird arrives on the table.

The one who reluctantly agrees to do the carving becomes the loneliest human being in the world.

He is one who stands in crisis, ringed by critics. He knows he is in a situation which he can't win. He is bound to give somebody too much light meat or too little dark meat. He endows with a section of drumstick one who passionately yearned for a wing.

His technique is also bound to come under adverse scrutiny. Someone suggests, "Don't you think you'd better—?" and another add, "If I were you, I'd start—."

Here are some types of turkey

Looking Backward

FROM THE NEWS FILES

5 YEARS AGO—Mr. and Mrs. H. B. McCave of W. State St. were recent guests of Mrs. F. W. Wiedmeyer of Orlando, Fla.

10 YEARS AGO—Miss Rita Zeller, who is attending Bowling Green State University, is spending the holiday recess with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Shallenberger of Pidgeon Rd.

Barbs

It's when love affairs aren't really to heart that they wind up being taken to court.

Lots of sleep is lost by parents because they want to kiss their teenage daughters good night.

The News invites letters from readers on all important current topics but the letters should be brief, not to exceed 200 words and they must bear the signature and address of the writer to insure publication.

Unsigned letters can not be published.

"This, we think, is both fallacious and nonsensical. Was the United Nations able to discipline Russia for its actions in Hungary? Except for futile speech-making, it was not.

"Had Red China been among its members, could it have disciplined Peiping for smashing Tibet? Of course it could not have done so.

"Will the United Nations be better able to serve the cause of peace and justice if it counts among its members not one, but two, powerful outlaws? The question, we think, answers itself."

Memories seem to be short. Not many years ago the United States drafted more than a million of its young men to risk their lives in Korea—8,000 miles away from home—not to defend American territory, but to defend a ideal.

THE AMERICAN people were told that the United Nations was the champion of freedom and a bulwark against aggression. More than 157,000 casualties were suffered by American military forces, of which 33,629 were deaths in action.

One thing can be said to the parents and relatives of these soldiers, not only of the United States but of other nations, if the ideal now is forsaken and the unreformed aggressor is rewarded with a permanent seat in the Security Council of the United Nations.

The speech delivered by Mr. Douglas is not unlike that which so many of the so-called liberals have been making in recent months.

Although they are indignant at the slightest suggestion that they are soft on communism, they seem to be indifferent to the fortunes of the United States in the cold war.

Despite the fact that the United States is being undermined by Red China and by the Soviets on every continent of the world and that the budget of the United States is strained to the utmost by armament expenditures, the cry of the appeasers is that, by giving the Communists what they want, the cause of peace will be advanced.

This was the doctrine of the Western governments in the 1930s as, unhappily, they gave Hitler a concession after concession—which he promptly misconstrued as a sign of weakness.

All the talk of "two Chinas"—Formosa and the mainland—as members of the United Nations is likewise illusory. It gives the impression that the Peiping government is entitled to consideration as a fact.

Had Red China not committed aggression and were it not responsible today for the violation of the armistice in Korea, the ordinary conceptions of de facto government would have been theoretically logical.

TODAY IT IS A CONDITION AND NOT A THEORY WITH WHICH THE FREE WORLD IS CONFRONTED. IT IS AN OUTLAW IN ANY ACCURATE USE OF THE WORD BUT, HE ASKED, "HOW CAN AN OUTLAW BE KEPT OUTSIDE THE UNITED NATIONS AND YET BE DISCIPLINED BY IT?"

"THE IMPLICATION IS, OF COURSE, THAT IF RED CHINA WERE IN THE UNITED NATIONS IT COULD BE DISCIPLINED AS WELL AS REFORMED."

Today it is a condition and not a theory with which the free world is confronted. If principle is abandoned for expediency and for the appeasement process, the day of another world war, originating in the Far East, will be brought nearer even as the call to further sacrifices for freedom will have a hollow and hypocritical sound.

1. The Poor Workman—He always begins by blaming his tools. "This knife isn't sharp enough," he says, "and this knife has too long a blade. This knife doesn't have enough tensile strength. This knife doesn't—"

2. The Brusque Matriarch—"Oh, give me that knife before you cut yourself," she says as her hapless husband makes a first tentative thrust. She slices and serves with bold confidence, knowing the guests cannot cavil too loudly at the cook.

3. The Malicious Prankster—He solicitously inquires from each guest what part of the turkey he likes best—then gives him something else. This gagger enjoys his little joke, but next Thanksgiving he'll be eating somewhere else.

4. The Cautious Husband—"My dear, you do the honors," he says, handing the knife to his mother-in-law, and knowing then he is safe from all further blame. This guy is the kind of diplomat the United Nations needs.

5. The Showman—He tells a few wisecracks, does a soft shoe dance around the table, then wildly wags the knife like Cyrano de Bergerac dueling against a dozen, he charges against the turkey—and it slides off on the floor. Exit actor.

6. The Artful Host—He invites a brain surgeon as guest, gives him with three quick martinis, then, when the turkey is ready, extends the knife and says, "Okay, doc, the patient is ready."

In any case, whoever he is, the carver is the real hero of an family Thanksgiving feast. He is the one who always gets the bird.

DiSalle told the legislative leaders he wants the extender as a preventive measure against a serious recession—as "a stabilizer of the economy."

"This month—the month before Christmas—is important to everyone, the wage earners and the retailers," the governor said. "If we let this month slip by, we might not be able to recapture the situation after the first of the year."

"This (extender) will have a tendency to bring a halt to rising unemployment, create stability and assurance. It might even stop depletion of the (unemployment insurance) trust fund."

Engaged in Sharp Debate

The conference here apparently has engaged in sharp debate over whether to accept the Soviet party point of view or adopt the hard-line demanded by the Red Chinese.

From all indications available to correspondents and diplomats on the outside—and these indications are limited—it appears likely that some kind of compromise eventually will be worked out.

Nevertheless Pravda's statement, coming on the heels of the article in the Peiping People's Daily, indicated that the debate was still continuing and on a very tough basis.

In what happened to be an answer to critics, Pravda said that as general principle "so long as will exist for wars of aggression and conquest and a threat will remain to peace."

Thanksgiving Program Held By DAR Chapter Members

"Let Us Give Thanks" was the theme of the program when Phoebe Fraunze Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. E. E. Logue of Ridgewood Drive.

Mrs. Michael Schuller reviewed "Let Us Give Thanks," a story of Sarah Josepha Hale, "Mother of Thanksgiving," prepared by Verne Mutch of Pennsylvania DAR.

Mrs. Schuller told the story of Mrs. Hale, first great editor of her sex, and of her successful campaign for the national observance of Thanksgiving Day.

The idea of Thanksgiving Day has so long been associated with the Pilgrims that few realize that it was not annually observed by the entire nation until 1863, and that its annual observance was brought about by years of persistent agitation on the part of a woman, the sory related.

In 1827, Mrs. Hale wrote: "We have too few holidays. Thanksgiving, like the Fourth of July, should be considered a national festival and observed by all our people as an exponent of our Republican institutions."

It was in 1846, as editor of Godey's Lady's Book, that Mrs. Hale began her intensive campaign for a nationwide observance of Thanksgiving Day.

Each year she wrote an editorial urging the states to set apart the last Thursday of November as Thanksgiving Day, and each year she wrote letters to the governors of all the states and territories, pleading with them to proclaim a Thanksgiving Day, which would be observed by all the states at the same time, designating the last Thursday in November in the tradition of the first one proclaimed by President George Washington in 1789.

By 1852, Mrs. Hale had won the consent of all but two states, Virginia and Vermont, and on July 3, 1863, when the battle of Gettysburg was at last ended, she recognized this as her supreme moment and quickly dispatched a letter to President Abraham Lincoln, enclosing a copy of Washington's proclamation of 1789, and implored him to proclaim a day of national thanksgiving.

Lincoln complied with the request. The following year he again proclaimed Thanksgiving Day, naming the last Thursday in November, which was the date favored by Mrs. Hale.

Since 1864, although there has been no Congressional action endorsing it, every President has designated the last or the fourth Thursday in November as a national Thanksgiving Day. This achievement won for Mrs. Hale the title, "Mother of Thanksgiving."

Mrs. Schuller closed the program with a Thanksgiving meditation prepared by Captain Jean Manhollow of the local Salvation Army citadel.

Mrs. Donald Reichert, regent, presided at the business session. She welcomed a guest, Mrs. Victor Ballenger, newcomer to Salem and a member of a DAR chapter in Fremont.

Mrs. Logue was named to fill the unexpired term as chapter historian, upon the resignation of Mrs. Willard Hetric of Columbiana.

Mrs. William Logue, DAR Indian chairman, was instructed to send Christmas gifts to two Indian girls at Chilocco, Okla., Agricultural School.

The chapter also voted a Christmas gift of money to Kate Duncan Smith DAR Approved School in Grant, Ala.; a contribution to "Dollars for Defense" and a contribution to the NSDAR Library microfilm project.

Mrs. Logue reported that "I Led Three Lives" by Herbert Philbrick, had been presented to both the Columbian High School and Salem Senior High School libraries and that a third copy will be available to

Christian Church Women's Pageant Is About Holiday

A pageant, "What is An American?" was presented when the Christian Church Women's Fellowship held its Thanksgiving meeting recently in the First Christian Church. There were 75 persons in attendance.

Annual Dinner Is Held by Book Club

Fred L. Helm of Bexley of the public relations department of Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., Akron, discussed Liberia for the Book Club Monday evening at the annual Husbands' Night dinner in the First United Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. J. R. Stiver gave the toast to the husbands, and Mr. Stiver gave the response.

Mrs. E. S. Vincent gave the invocation. Miss Mary Herbert, club president, welcomed the guests and presented the speaker, who spent 26 years in Liberia to help develop Firestone rubber plantations.

Mrs. Helm said there are now 90,000 acres of land in rubber plantations in Liberia, where the population is divided into two groups. He said the Liberian Group, which stemmed from three Negroes, now numbers about one million, and that there are 26 tribes in the Native Group, each speaking its own language.

In 1847, Liberia adopted a constitution patterned after that of the United States, the speaker said, adding that this year marks the 113th anniversary of the republic. Mr. Helm concluded his program with colored films showing the different stages of development.

Mrs. Marie Fawcett entertained with four marimba numbers, "Xylophon," "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise," "The Moon of Monako" and "Aloha." She was accompanied by Mrs. Jay Hunston.

The next regular meeting will be Dec. 5 in the Ruth Smucker House.

Golden Year Marked by Area Couple

One hundred and seventy-five guests greeted Mr. and Mrs. Owen A. Pottorf of Winona when they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, with a reception at Guilford Grange Hall.

Mr. Pottorf and the former Ida Buchanan were married Nov. 17, 1910, by the Rev. D. C. Robinson of the Church of God.

Their three daughters, Mrs. Lois Luxeul of Salem, Mrs. Maxine Scott of Cortland and Mrs. Mary Harris of RD 3, Salem, planned the affair. The Pottorfs have nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gold brocade sheath with matching accessories, and carried a white prayer book topped with white roses and stephanotis.

Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Long of Salem, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Long was attired in a brown and beige wool sheath with matching accessories and a yellow rose corsage.

Following the ceremony, a dinner and reception was held at the Raven Restaurant in Alliance. Guests were from Norwalk, Mansfield, Salem, Sebring, Beloit, Uniontown, North Georgetown and New Garden.

Mr. Bradley is employed by the E. W. Bliss Co.

Following a trip through the southern states, the couple will reside at RD 2, Beloit, 14 yards 35-inch.

1960-61 Quakers Go on Display in Preview Saturday

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

Most Salem High basketball fans will be getting their first look at the 1960-61 Quakers Saturday night when Coach John Cabas sends his charges into action in the second annual Salem preview at the Senior High School.

Most observers agree that the schedule this season is the most challenging a Salem High team has ever faced, and to add to the excitement Coach Cabas says this year's club has the greatest potential of any he has worked with since coming here 11 years ago.

Most pleasing in drills so far has been the outstanding leader ship and rebounding ability displayed by senior Don Davidson, the only returning letterwinner from last year. This 6-5 athlete has shown signs that he will be the team's "take charge" man this season — something that he left to Dave Hunter and Dan Krichbaum last year.

DAVIDSON, who averaged just over 12 points per game last year as a junior, is once again working out at a forward spot but he could be moved to center when and if conditions call for the switch.

Unlike many big men, Davidson is quick and likes to drive. He and guard Bob "Bo" Eskay figure to be the two most prolific scorers on a team which appears capable of rolling up some healthy scores.

Eskay was the leading scorer on the reserve team last year. Cabas says that as far as fundamentals and techniques are concerned Eskay plays almost "flawless basketball." If the 5-10 junior has a weakness, it may be his passing sense, Cabas says. On occasion, Eskay hasn't shown the really fine edge necessary in making sharp, quick passes.

Eskay, like Davidson, has displayed the leadership qualities which Cabas likes in a ball player.

TOD COUCHIE, 6-5 senior, is another man who figures to be in the starting lineup this season. Couchie has looked good in practice. He has the ability and intelligence to make him a valuable asset to the squad.

After a slow start, Couchie came on near the end of the season last year to be one of the best players on Coach Karl Zellers' reserve squad. "The biggest problem with this boy," Coach Cabas remarked, "is his lack of confidence."

Dave Hunter remarked at the end of last season that Couchie has the natural ability to be an outstanding basketball player. He is lacking only in experience and confidence.

The big senior is being used as a forward and alternate center.

At the center positions, Cabas has been working with Ron Janovec, 6-3 senior, and Ted Thorne, 6-5, junior. Both men lack finesse but Janovec is a fine rebounder and Thorne is learning fast.

Cabas has always been known to go a long way with his big men during the regular season because he likes to have them in the line-up for tournament games.

Janovec is a fierce competitor and if he can keep his strength under control, he too will be in the starting lineup this season.

FRED HARSHMAN, 5-8, senior,

Beery has shown a tendency to shoot too hard at the hoop, but Cabas has been greatly impressed by this sophomore who has to be good to be considered a starter on this promising club. Beery is being tried at forward as well as guard.

Other juniors who have looked particularly good in practices are

Jerry Wohlnas, 6-2; John Borrelli,

5-9½; Gary Jeffries, 5-9; and Sam Watson, 6-0. All but Wohlnas played reserve ball here last year.

Wohlnas played for Hopedale High under coach Don McBride, a former player of "Chick" and Harry McBride of Columbiiana.

OF THE SOPHOMORES, Reserve

Coach Karl Zellers has been particularly impressed by the work of Rick Platt, 5-6½, scrapper who has many of the fine qualities that his brother displayed as a member of the Quaker squad a few years back.

Bob King, 6-3½, and George

Buckshaw, 6-4, are another pair of lanky sophomores who figure to see considerable reserve action this year.

The preview here Saturday night is slated to get underway

at 8 p.m. with Alliance meeting

Kent Roosevelt. The Quakers will then take on Massillon at 8:25.

Salem freshmen and reserve squads will play during the intermission. At 9:15, Kent Roosevelt will come back to meet Massillon.

Salem and Alliance will meet in the 9:45 finale.

Tickets for the preview are on sale for $1. There will be no reserved seats. Doors to the gym will open at 7 p.m. Saturday

Salem, West Branch Tie for 21st in Final AP Grid Poll

Massillon Cops Ninth Crown Since Ratings Started In 1947

Niles Finishes 2nd, Alliance 3rd, Sandusky 4th in Balloting by Editors

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The opposition couldn't "hold that Tiger"—so Massillon is still Ohio's high school football champion.

The terrific Tigers tutored by Leo Strang took the 1960 title and the Rutgers Hall of Fame Trophy today in the season's final Associated Press poll, adding them to the ones they earned a year ago.

Massillon has retired two of the

Additional Sports On Page 8

Rutgers Hall of Fame trophies, emblematic of the state championship. It must be won three times for permanent possession, and the current triumph gives the Tigers a "leg" on the new one. No other school has ever retired the coveted trophy.

This is Massillon's ninth championship since the sport writer's poll was inaugurated in 1947. The Tiger won seven straight, from 1948 through 1954. Barberton's Magics won the first one in 1947. Canton McKinley triumphed in 1955 and 1956, Cleveland Benedictine in 1957, and Alliance in 1958.

Thus, 12 of the 14 championships have gone to Stark County teams. Of the 42 votes cast in the final poll, only four are from Stark County.

Niles Finished Second

Niles McKinley finished second, 131 poll points back of the leader on the 10-9-8-etc. voting basis. Then came Alliance, Sandusky, Marion Harding, Toledo Central Catholic, Troy and Port Clinton. The eastern half of the state won the first three places, the west the other seven.

The Massillon team survived an upset setback at the hands of Warren Harding to remain on the throne. The 10-1 season gave Strang a record of 28 wins, 2 losses and a tie in his three years at the Tiger helm—and could boost him into a college job.

Only Dayton Colonel White, a newcomer to the big-time wars, Cincinnati Purcell and Johnny-come-lately Port Clinton of the Top Ten finished with unblemished records. Purcell won nine straight, the other two 10 in a row. Port Clinton made its lone appearance among the elite in the final ratings, displacing Lima Senior in the tenth spot.

Alliance Lost Two Games

The offensive and defensive laurels went to Dayton White which rolled up a 53-46 scoring advantage. Alliance, which lost two games by a total of six points—to Massillon and Niles—was the only twice-beaten club in the Top Ten. Niles was tied once, but the others lost a game.

There was a huge turnover in the top talent from a year ago. Only Massillon and Marion Harding repeated in the upper echelon. Massillon retaining the title and Marion slipping from fourth to seventh.

The 1959 race was much closer than the current one, Springfield's unbeaten Wildcats finishing behind Massillon in poll points, 427 to 389, after leading in the penultimate ratings. A year ago 53 ballots were cast in the championship pool, as compared to 42 this time.

Dayton Colonel White really captured the fans—a record 17,824 turned out to see the 32-12 victory

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS LIDE

Hunters were out in about the cock pheasants standing in one of the mowed lanes and came to a halt. Within 30 minutes after the hour of nine they had the limit of two cocks each. These boys were happy. I released the birds the night before. All were banded.

From here on in until about many hunters out on any particular day with the exception of Saturday.

I believe there were more pheasants taken this year in Columbiana County than in any previous year. Actually the hunter b a g showed a few more pheasants taken than rabbits. I don't think such a tally means anything except the possibility of an increase in the pheasant population in certain sections of the county.

REMEMBER, we are having a very dry hunting season. Some hunters thought there was something wrong with their dogs because when a rabbit was kicked up the hound wasn't able to follow the trail. It seems that when a rabbit hits the woods running through the dry leaves he left no tracking scent.

The same was true going across a bare piece of ground. Don't blame your pup, it's the dry weather.

To back this up, I have a rain gauge at my home and I have to keep an accurate report of the rainfall in my vicinity. So far, we have had only 2.54 in. of rain during the month of November. We need rain badly, regardless of the hunting season.

THREE HUNTERS from Harrison County happened to be driving past the Zepernick area before the hunting hour. They spotted two

Gophers Accept Rose Bowl Bid

Other Big Battles Taking Shape

By The Associated Press
Minnesota made it. Oregon is in, but the college football bowl picture today still had some gaps as a dwindling list of eligibles headed by question-mark Navy, were being more closely eyed for postseason play.

The Rose Bowl didn't even give Navy a chance to beat Army Saturday and set up a possible rematch with Washington's Big Five champions, whom it beat 15-14 in October. Instead, the Big Five tapped Minnesota's Golden Gophers, currently the nation's top-ranked team in the Associated Press poll.

So, the granddaddy of all bowls has a solid attraction in Washington, the defending champion, meeting the rags-to-riches Golden Gophers, who only a year ago were the doormat of the Big Ten.

Washington, Big Five champion, finished its season with a 9-1 record while Minnesota, last in the Big Ten in 1959, was 8-1 and co-champion of the conference with Iowa. Minnesota's acceptance of a Rose Bowl bid dropped Iowa out of the bowl picture since conference rules prohibit postseason competition in any bowl but the Rose.

Oregon (7-2-1) accepted a bid to play Penn State Dec. 17 in Philadelphia's Liberty Bowl. The Nittany Lions (6-3) accepted Monday. The Citadel also accepted a bid to play Tennessee Tech in the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla., Dec. 30.

Those are the only bowls whose card is complete. The Cotton, with Arkansas; Orange, with Missouri, and Gator with Baylor are halfway home. The Sugar, Bluebonnet and Gotham are still teamless.

Duke, Mississippi, Tennessee, Alabama, Texia, Georgia Tech, Florida and Navy, if it beats Army, are still in the running.

Davidson, Cunningham Nominated by Coaches

End Don Davidson of Salem and quarterback Ken Cunningham of East Liverpool were nominated at a meeting in Youngstown last night of Mahoning and Columbiana County Coaches for further consideration toward making the North All-Star team for next year's North-South football game at Canton.

Their names will be sent to Columbus where the final selections for the All-Star teams will be made.

All-Tri-County Team Selected by Coaches

All member schools except Se- center Steve Frew. Bowling was bring, placed at least one man on the 1960 All-Tri-County League's leading score this year. Frew was the mainstay in Coach Bud Bucher's big line.

Co-champion Poland placed three men on the squad, one more than the other co-champ, East Palestine, and the Lisbon Blue Devils.

Leetonia's 5-6, 185-pound senior guard Jody Sevenich was a repeat winner. Sevenich is expected to also be high up in the listings of All-Ohio grididers which will be released soon.

Columbiana's fine end, Rich Harrold, also made the first team. Lisbon is represented on the squad by back Rick Bowling and

Duck Hunting Season To Resume Dec. 23

The first segment of Ohio's 1960 split duck season will close at sunset Thursday, Thanksgiving Day. The season will be closed until noon December 23 when it will re-open for an additional nine days. The season will permanently close at sunset December 31.

Hunting hours are one-half hour before sunrise to sunset and the daily limit is three ducks, only one of which may be a wood duck or hooded merganser. Canavasbacks and redheads are completely protected this year.

Goose hunting extends without a break to sunset December 23. The daily and possession limit is five geese, of which not more than two may be Canada or white-fronted geese, singly and in combination.

The season on coots and mergansers is the same as that for duck. Early season duck and goose hunting success was better than expected.

Man Who Shot Hunter Not Game Protector

A recent news item about a Mahoning County hunting accident stated that a game protector shot a hunter. This report was inaccurate.

Elwood Ressler, the patrolman who reportedly shot a 17-year-old boy on Meander Reservoir, is an employee of the Mahoning Valley Sanitary District.

Wildlife chief Hayden Olds, although regretting the incident, points out that Elwood Ressler is not a Division of Wildlife employee. He is the son of Earl Ressler, the Mahoning County game protector, and it is thought that this relationship may have caused the confusion.

Forecaster Sees Navy Getting Upset by Army

NEW YORK (AP) — Where's the guy who said this picking business was so tough?

Thanks to the gents who invented the 2-point conversion and the four-leaf clover, last week's nonsense turned up a 37-8 record for an .822 pace that boosted the season's mathematics to 355-126, a hefty .738 per cent.

The law of averages is just itch'in to catch up after all those blind stabs, so let's start from the top:

Army over Navy—Cadets' Blanda and Eckert can pass; favored Middies' Bellino can run. That makes it 2 to 1. Victory in air power in this nationally televised Saturday sizzler from Philadelphia.

Texas over Texas A & M — The week's other TV offering, Thanksgiving in Texas. The Longhorns are no turkeys.

Alabama over Auburn — The Bear (Bryant) is primed for Tiger Saturday. No Ed Dyas, no Auburn offense.

Florida over Miami — This one usually winds up 10-7. Florida the state champ after Saturday night.

Notre Dame over Southern California—Even Irishmen have tempers, especially after eight straight losses. They'll show Saturday.

Mississippi over Mississippi State — Last-ditch Rebel bid for No. 1 ranking.

Thursday

Denver over Colorado State U., Penn over Cornell, VMI over VPI, Mississippi Southern over Chattanooga, Wichita over West Texas State, William and Mary over Richmond.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: The advice you gave to "Worried Kids" whose father took up with a woman 40 years his junior, stank. We had a similar situation and this is what happened:

Dad started to date this girl who was 30 years younger. He bought her expensive clothes and jewelry. She drove his car everywhere.

I tried to talk some sense into his head but it was useless. Finally I got so disgusted I forgot I was a lady and pulled several chunks of her blond hair out by the black roots.

Well, Dad married her. Four months later he died of a heart attack. We are now engaged in a nasty court fight. The bills she ran up are charged to my father so the estate must pay them. This means part of MY money is going to pay HER bills!

If I had it to do over again I would manage somehow to make my Dad see the error of his ways. He would be alive today instead of dead at 63.—BEEN THROUGH IT.

Dear Been: Your response to my advice (which stank) is so illogical I don't know where to begin! You say if you had it to do over you'd manage somehow to make him see the error of his ways. Like how? What more could you have said or done—short of murder?

My advice to "Worried Kids" was to express themselves—then keep quiet. Beyond that, there's nothing that CAN be done. Your experience proved I was right.

On the AA Squad

Dear Ann: Football season has made my life unbearable. My husband is an avid fan and would rather die than miss a game. We have two children, 12 and 9. We go to the games together—as a family.

This sounds just charming, doesn't it?—well, wait. My husband always (and I do mean always) takes a bottle of whisky along with him.

He drinks right out of the bottle, so he doesn't realize how much goes down. By the time the game is over he doesn't know if he saw a football game or a polo match.

I think this is a terrible example to set for the children and have told him so. He says the important thing is that the kids will always remember we went to the football games together. How about this?—COMPLAINING WIFE.

Dear Wife: You have a right to complain. Do you know what the kids will remember? When Wisconsin played Iowa Pa was slopped to the eyeballs and had to be led out of the stadium. Any man who can't be without a belt for three hours sounds like a candidate for AA.

Latin Lesson

Dear Ann: Have you had many kickbacks, pro or con on your Landers Rules for Chewing Gum? I'd like to stick in my 2 cents worth, if I may.

Many years ago when I was at dear Northwestern High in Detroit, a wonderful Latin teacher taught us two lessons wrapped up in one. The correct Latin construction of this sentence has long since left my memory—but the sense of the sentence has stuck. Here it is: "The girl would have been pretty if she had not been chewing gum."—Class of '31.

Confidentially

TO OVERPROTECTED: Applesauce, Toots. Your mother is the one who has to pull you out of the sack in the morning—not your friends. Discipline yourself and get to bed an hour earlier.

UNDECIDED: Let the cat out of the bag before that cat has kittens. The sooner the better.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

HEPATITIS RATE UP

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Health Department reports that the sickness rate from hepatitis (alias yellow jaundice) has reached an all-time high in the state this year, with at least 2,042 Ohioans hit by the mysterious virus in the Jan. 1-Nov. 12 period.

Find age closest to yours in left-hand column, then follow across black bar. Top scale shows the year you are likely to be around to see. Figures in parentheses show the age to which you can expect to live.

NUMBERS GAME — The average baby born in America today can expect to live 69.7 years—a record high—says the National Office of Vital Statistics. And the odds for a long life get better with each passing year. For instance, a baby celebrating his first birthday in 1960 can look forward to at least 70 more and help ring in the new year of 2030 A.D. A young man of 20 in 1960 can expect to live through the first decade of the 21st century. As Newsmap shows, the longer you live, the better chance you have of surpassing the Biblical three score and ten.

Church to Mark Anniversary

Washingtonville Lutherans Plan 150th Event

Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church in Washingtonville will celebrate its 150th anniversary Sunday, Rev. Paul J. Korntheuer is pastor.

The celebration will be marked by a service of Holy Communion at 10:30 a.m. Guest speaker is Rev. Herbert W. Veler DD, president of the Synod of Ohio of the United Lutheran Church of America.

The Rev. Mr. Korntheuer, who has served as pastor since June 1, 1959, will be the liturgist, and Rev. S. D. Myers of Alliance, former pastor, will be the lector for the service.

Former pastors and other guests will bring greetings to the congregation at the coverdish dinner to be served in the social hall, following the service.

TRINITY CHURCH HAS the distinction of being the oldest congregation in the Eastern Conference of the Synod of Ohio. It was one of several Lutheran churches in eastern Ohio to be founded by Rev. Johannes Stauch, home missionary for the Ministerium of Pennsylvania.

The organizers in 1810 were Joseph Roller, William Bates, Peter Zimmerman, Joseph Zimmerman, John Greenawalt and Henry Estep. The first building used for worship was a log cabin built in 1812.

In 1841, during the ministry of Rev. J. H. Huffman, a frame building was erected, and was a union church used by the Lutherans and the Presbyterians. Some time thereafter, the Presbyterians withdrew.

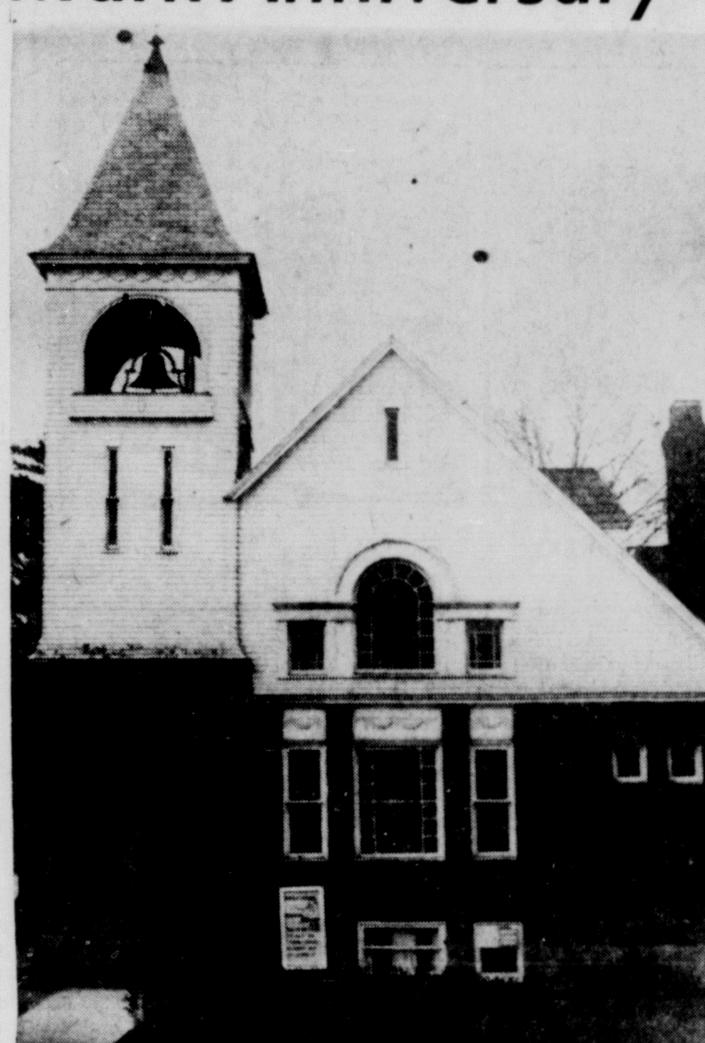

The present edifice was dedicated in 1896, under the pastorate of Rev. A. J. Houk. Cost of the building was $3,600. In the past 10 years the congregation has made numerous improvements including re-decoration of the church, a black top parking lot, a new sidewalk, new kitchen, an electronic organ and new Service Books and Hymnals, used by Lutheran churches in the National Lutheran Council. At present, the congregation has voted to install a new heating system to replace the coal furnace now in use.

AMONG ITS PASTORS who have risen to positions of prominence, was the Rev. J. M. Ruthrauff who served from 1876 to 1881. He later became president of Wittenberg University in Springfield.

The Rev. Mr. Myers served as supply pastor for 10 years prior to the Rev. Mr. Korntheuer's appointment. Neighboring pastors who supplied were Rev. George D. Keister of Holy Trinity Church of Salem, and Rev. T. P. Laughner of St. Paul's Church in Leetonia.

In the last century three of her sons have entered the gospel ministry, including Joseph Clark Zimmerman, A. E. Wagner and William Roller. This year, the fourth son, Carl McKenzie, has gone out into the gospel ministry. Pastor McKenzie, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. McKenzie, was ordained here last May, and is presently

Legion Auxiliary Installs New Members At Columbiana

COLUMBIANA — Mrs. Ray Culp, Mrs. William Franks, Mrs. Sam Long, Mrs. Ellis Ritchie and Mrs. Frank Tevis were added as new members of American Legion Auxiliary at initiation ceremonies conducted by the unit. Miss Karen Franks was initiated as a junior member.

Mrs. Irene Zellers reported during the business meeting on the latest meeting of the county council of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Other reports during the business session noted that a walker and bedrest have been added to the unit's supply of hospital equipment available for public use, and that the local group has made donations to the Retarded Children's Fund, Child Welfare Fun, Woodside Receiving Hospital, Christmas Seal sale, and "Gifts for the Yanks who Gave" campaign.

THE REV. WILLIAM BROWN, pastor of the Lisbon Methodist Church, linked the modern observance of Thanksgiving with the festival of the tabernacles of the ancient Jews in reviewing the history of the national holiday for members of Kiwanis Club at their weekly dinner meeting Monday night at Heck's Restaurant. The speaker was introduced by E. Gordon Warner.

ROTARY CLUB, at its meeting this week, heard a report by Harry Eberhardt, a member, on the recent convention of the Ohio Society for Crippled Children. Eberhardt was honored at the conference for his efforts on the behalf of handicapped youngsters.

He presented a film, "Reach for Tomorrow," showing work accomplished by the Ohio Society, work which is financed by proceeds from the annual Easter Seal sales.

A meeting of the Mothers Study Group will be held Tuesday, Nov. 29, at Fairfield School building in
